How Premier Support works

Customers who select Premier Support get ready access to senior engineers and a dedicated Technical Account Manager (TAM) as a single point of contact. Your TAM becomes your trusted advisor and acts as your go-to advocate for support requirements. And when you add the Premier Plus option, in addition to all the Premier Support benefits, you also get a designated Advanced Support Engineer who augments your internal operational support team with an extensive experience and deep technical knowledge of One Identity solutions.

The Technical Account Manager Difference

Some software vendors take the 'one-size-fits-most' approach to support services. With Premier Support, your TAM focuses on your unique IT environment and business objectives to establish a long-lasting relationship and to foster long-term success with your One Identity solutions.

We want to make sure you are getting the most out of your One Identity solutions and support services. Building a relationship with your organization and understanding your IT environment, your TAM will make recommendations to you on product usage and adoption to ensure you are getting a full return on your investment.

“One Identity Support is ‘best in class’. Anytime we ask for any break/fix help or have questions around the workflows, Support is prompt to reply and help us to a successful resolution. I love that.”

Your TAM begins the process with an onboarding session with a product specialist to provide you with a product and support overview. They will help your organization get moving forward with One Identity solutions and conduct regularly scheduled review calls and provide status. This will help identify and avoid potential issues. They will also review support activity, including trend analysis, asset reports, and defect and product updates. Basically, they become an extension of your IT team.

They will engage with your team for enablement activities, such as training opportunities, review of Knowledge Base articles, introduce you to our customer portal and other self-service sources, ensure adoption of best practices and share our ondemand tips and tricks webcasts.

Finally, your TAM also acts as your single point of contact and will engage with all necessary One Identity resources on your behalf to help drive your business success.

When you submit a service request to One Identity Support, your TAM will ensure it is being handled appropriately.

Your TAM will take ownership of any escalations or critical situations, and will coordinate a resolution by engaging with the One Identity Support, Product Management, and Research and Development teams.
